Quirt LLC Uses Capstone's Proprietary Process to Acquire Majority Interest of GoSystems

Capstone Strategic, Inc. announced today that Quirt LLC (Quirt) of Auburn Hills, Michigan has acquired a majority interest in GoSystems of Kentucky, Inc. (GoSystems) of Georgetown, Kentucky. Capstone advised Quirt on this transaction.

Quirt is a leading provider of specialized logistical services, including inbound and outbound, service parts, and maintenance repair and operations (MRO) logistics, to both manufacturing and service industries. Additionally, the company offers consulting and training services. Quirt has extensive experience in various vertical markets, particularly in automotive, serving customers such as Toyota, General Motors, and DaimlerChrysler.

Established in 2000, GoSystems provides supply chain management services. Due in part to the company's excellent customer service, the Company experienced growth every year since its inception. Recently, GoSystems was awarded a United States Postal Service contract that will significantly expand the combined companies. GoSystems' management team has 30 years of industry experience that will aid Quirt as it bolsters its capability and customer base.

"The combined operations of the two companies will strengthen and expand Quirt's existing services," said Paul D. McQuirter, CEO and owner of Quirt. "Capstone was with us every step of the way. What made the difference was their proprietary process, the Road Map to Acquisition. They systematically guided us from developing and refining our approach to evaluating our options and crafting the right deal. When you have the experts at Capstone coaching your acquisition team, the CEO can focus on the deal horizon and integrating the new entity.

Commenting at the close, John Dearing, Managing Director at Capstone said, “The addition of GoSystems to Quirt’s service platform clearly enhances Quirt’s position as a leading logistics provider. This transaction specifically focused on the ‘Build the Relationship’ and deal phases of the Capstone process. Both parties will benefit as will the combined entity’s customers. It is a winning situation for all involved.”
